

9 New Vegan Products You Can't Sleep On

By Hannah Sentenac | June 8, 2017 | 12:13pm

FOOD > LISTS > VEGAN

It's a great time to be vegan — unlike, say, 10 years ago. These days there's a bevy of cruelty-free cuisine options in restaurants, stores, and even places like schools, corporate campuses and prisons (yes, seriously).

Grocery store shelves in particular are getting lots of plant-based love from vegan and non-vegan companies alike, all eager to cash in on the dietary renaissance. Hit up your average Safeway or Publix and you'll find all kinds of vegan goodies.

So, for the vegans and veg-curious, here are nine groundbreaking new vegan products coming soon to stores near you.

2. Daiya Cutting Board Shreds

Vegan cheesemaker Daiya is known for its popular shreds (found in pizzerias nationwide), and this new formulation melts 100 percent like cow's milk cheese. Ooey, gooey and totally stretchable, the company will offer the shreds in cheddar, mozzarella and pepperjack styles. They'll hit stores in late summer, early fall.

7. Daiya Deluxe Cheeze Sauce

Photo courtesy of Daiya

Sometimes you just need cheese to cover ALL of the food. That's what Daiya's new cheeze sauce is for. In Alfredo and cheddar-styles, it comes shelf-stable and can be poured on just about everything from broccoli to macaroni to nachos. The boxed sauces will also make it to stores in late summer, early fall.

6/8/17

<https://www.pastemagazine.com/articles/2017/06/9-groundbreaking-new-vegan-products-coming-to-stor.html>